New York Stock Market

New York, January 15 .- There little to distinguish the record of today's trading in stocks from that of last week, with its uncertain movements and undercurrent of heaviness. No new influences of importance were brought to bear upon the securities market, and traders showers showed increasing predisposition toward the bear side. Prices were depressed in the early part of the day, but later the market advanced in a hesitating way. Toward the close a brisk buying movement largely crased the losses and the end of the day found price changes in most cases insignificent.

price changes in most cases insignificent.

As prices moved downward operations for the short account were encouraged by reports of selli g by important financial interests. The movement secured to derive its chief impetus, however, from short selling by the professional elements. It was directed against the stocks which were conspicuously heavy last week, particularly the coppers, Harriman issues and St. Phul. These issues and a few of the less active stocks were depressed a point or so, but the bears were unable to dislodge long stock and losses in most cases were small. The coal stocks moved in eccentric fashion. After declining moderately they became strong, and both Reading and Lehigh Valley at one time stood nearly 2 points above the previous close. St. Paul was the conspicuous feature of the late trading. It became strong and active late in the day, and closed with a small gain.

An influence which helped to bring about the improvement in tone was the ovidence, as the day progressed, of a broader inquiry for investment securities.

The great gains in cash reported in

The great gains in cash reported in Saturday's bank statement exerted a sentimental influence upon the money market, although there was scarcely any borrowing of time funds, and the inquiry for call money fell far short of the available supply.

The bond market was irregular. Total sales, par value, $3,004,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call. Total sales for the day, 417,100 shares.

New York, January 15.—Money on call steady, 21-4@21-2 per cent.; ruling rate, 23-8; closing bld, 23-8; offered at 31-2 per cent. Time loans casier; sixty days, 23-4@3 per cent. and ninety days lending at 3; six months lending at 31-2 per cent. Prime mercantile paper, 33-4 to 41-4 per cent. Sterling exchange steady, with actual business in bankers' bills at 34.537; for sixty days, and at $4.87 for demand. Commercial bills, $4.83. Bar silver, 551-2. Mexican dollars, 47.

TWO NEAR CENTURY MARK.

Aged Neighbors in Blue Ridge Mountains Born on Same Day.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

Staunton, Va., January 15.—On adjoining farms in the Blue Ridge Mountains, five miles above Vesuvius, dwell two remarkable old people, Mrs. Elizar Fauber and William Bradley, who were born on the same day. February 14, 1817; therefore each will be ninety-five years old in February. Born on St. Valentine's Day, Mrs. Fauber a the recipent always of a great many valentines, and she takes streat interest in them. She is totally blind. Mr. Hradley resides on the farm on which he was born, an old 'McCormick family. He has been married twice, and is the father of twenty-three children, of whom t wenty-tiwe are livings. The case of two near-centenarians reeiding on adjoining farms and born on the same day is probably unique.
